Jane Williams The Nature Collection

Welcome to my collection of beautifully designed and individually hand painted silk scarves. My scarves are inspired by the beauty of nature, the drama of our landscapes and the wildness of our seas.

I am excited to share my creations with you, they come from the heart.

My scarves are all luxurious, fabulous silk, and I use the best French silk dyes. There are no prints or silk screens, just my paint brush to create your own, personal and unique scarf to love.

Kingfisher

Inspired by a February picnic, sitting shivering on the cliffs, watching this amazing little jewel of a bird. The rivers were freezing over, so it came and gave us a wonderful display whilst gathering it's food in the coastal rock pools. The thrilling display of it's fabulous electric colours made me rush home and create this scarf. We also saw a seal that day, which was really exciting, but probably not an exciting scarf!

Seahorses

Everyone loves seahorses, they are gorgeous little creatures and their body structure is fascinating and magical. I have added the beautiful golden ratio shapes of the ammonites to make this a scarf as pretty as a picture. There has been a recent sighting of seahorses near to where I live which makes it all so exciting I might have to jump in. Painted in fabulous rich sea greens and blues this is a fun scarf to really love wearing. might have to jump in. Jane Williams The Flower Collection

My celebration of the fleeting beauty of these wonderful gifts of flowers that are given to us (and bees). These amazing delights of colour and scent are there for us to marvel at and to bring joy into our lives. The more love and care that we lavish on them, the better they thrive, just like us.

Magnolias

Delicate beautiful blossoms hand painted on to exquisite silk satin. Full of romance and the sensuality that tactile silk has, a little like Cathy meeting Heathcliffe, or the joy of eating chocolate. To make you feel so exquisite when you wear it because actually, you already are.

Poppies

Poppies fill us with emotion. They are exquisite little flowers in their own right as they dance gently in the breeze. Their symbolic references stir basic human emotions in us such as gratitude and pride, and I think they are beautiful emotions to honour. Thank you to my Grandad who was at Dunkirk and to all the beautiful young men and women who shaped our world, from both sides. I am happy to paint the background to these lovely red poppies in any colour you want. Now how about that for a bespoke service.

Roses

I recently exhibited my Silk Art at the Royal Horticultural Societies, Open Art Exhibition. In June I attended their Rose Event, where I demonstrated some of my creative processes. The sun was shining, the birds were singing and the intense perfume of delicious roses filled the air. The roses were exquisite and had to be captured in all their glory. Using resist and watercolour techniques on sensation silk satin, these scarves are the epitome of beauty and elegance, just like the roses that inspired them. My Homage to Charles Rennie Macintosh.

The Silkscapes Collection

The sea breeze in your hair, the awe-inspiring skies, the excitement of hearing the rivers roaring off to the sea is the essence of the silkscapes. Being there, experiencing the now, and feeling so grateful to be a part of it all. Designed as Wearable Art, this collection is where I offer you works of art to elevate your wardrobe into something totally different and special. You never need to worry about turning up dressed the same as anyone else.

Riverside Walk

I am proud to have built up a great working relationship with my local National Trust. They have commissioned me to create some fabulous scarves to represent some of their areas and to support the vital role they have to play in shaping our great Outdoors. Riverside walk is inspired by a walk down by the river at the bottom of the valley which leads out to the beach and an old limekiln. The trees appear to grow out of the river as the water rushes through the ice age rocks and boulders on its way to the sea. I love the feeling of the wind in my hair and the sounds of the water crashing by and have tried to convey the coursing energy you feel, when in tune with nature.

Seascape

Living in Devon, I am lucky to be able to spend time watching the tides roll in and out. Sometimes a gentle kiss of water to smooth away the wrinkles and sometimes a thunderous wall of water, bringing rocks and boulders and depositing them on the shoreline, ready to be smoothed away again by the next tide. Like life really.

Lost on the Moors

Walking on the Moors is so exhilarating. That feeling of leaving it all behind you as you venture out into the elements and get up close and personal with the world. On one occasion, not knowing my left from right brought a whole new level of unexpected exhilaration as I realised we were lost (again!). Every cloud has a silver lining and I was lucky enough to witness this fabulous sunset over the wind bent trees on the moor, just before I found myself and averted an embarrassing rescue mission.
